

Kennedy Says Nixon Making Misstatements

By EDMOND LEBRETON

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy today accused Vice President Richard M. Nixon of trying to debate with one-sided statements, while refusing "to make his answers and charges in direct television confrontations with 70 million people watching."

The Democratic presidential nominee with this preface, issued his own written reply to a Republican "white paper" put out Wednesday.

In this earlier paper, Nixon said he was naming what he termed 13 misstatements or distortions Kennedy made during the campaign. In a point-by-point reply, Kennedy said Nixon repeated "some of the most glaring errors" the vice president had made during the campaign.

The dispute about the future of the television debate series between the candidates went on. Emissaries of the two scheduled discussions today of possible extension of Friday night's meeting to two hours instead of one.

This was Nixon's proposal, accepted in principle by Kennedy although the Democratic candidate has been insisting there should be a fifth debate close to the election.

Kennedy said today it is "an interesting fact" that Nixon is willing to continue the debate by issuing statements with a duplicating machine.

Kennedy said the answer to the Nixon "white paper" will be "millions of white papers cast on Continued on Page Two"

PSC Rules for Public Utilities

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Utilities may collect penalties on delinquent bills, but not on state and federal taxes, on those bills, the Arkansas Public Service Commission has ruled.

The ruling Wednesday denied a contention of the city of Fordyce that such penalties were illegal. The PSC voided a Fordyce resolution which directed Allied telephone Co. of Little Rock not to collect a 10 per cent penalty on late bills.

The PSC, however, upheld Fordyce regarding the inclusion of taxes in figuring penalties and directed Allied to eliminate any penalty on state and federal taxes.

Nixon Proposes Council for U. S. Economy

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon today proposed establishing a National Economic Council, part of a 12-point program he set forth to accelerate economic progress in the United States.

The council, he suggested, would correspond to the National Security Council, which advises the chief executive on the problems of security.

Nixon said in a speech prepared for the National Association of Business Economists that the new group would coordinate "the various government efforts bearing on the promotion of healthy economic growth."

But he declared it would infringe in no way on the independence of the Federal Reserve Board. This, Nixon said, "is something the opposition seems bent on doing, and which is already causing concern in responsible circles both in our country and abroad."

Much of what the Republican presidential candidate said in his speech—which he described as the most important of his campaign on business and economic matters—expanded on proposals which he previously had made in criticism of Democratic programs.

For the first time he emphasized the possibility of "an early warning economic intelligence system." He said it could operate through flexible credit and fiscal possibilities that could include tax adjustments to protect the economy against threats to stable growth.

In this connection he suggested amending federal law to include "reasonable price stability" as a major objective of government policy.

The national economy also could be stabilized he said, "if our unemployment insurance system were substantially strengthened."

Discussing fiscal policy, Nixon said Democrats, who insist on easy credit on what he called artificially low interest rates under any circumstances, are practically inviting foreign investors to withdraw billions now placed in this country on deposit or in short-term paper.

This could result he contended, in "a totally stupid and unnecessary gold crisis" which could have disastrous consequences for the entire free world.

To solve problems created by automation in industry, Nixon rejected over-all consultation among union, industrial and government Continued on Page Two

Dixon-Yates Case Argued in Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—Opposing attorneys argued before the Supreme Court Wednesday their conflicting views on government cancellation of the Dixon-Yates contract for a power plant at West Memphis Ark. in 1955.

There was no indication when the high court would rule on the case.

An issue is a government appeal from a Court of Claims decision awarding the Dixon-Yates group damages of $1,067,000 because the government nullified the contract.

The government's view is that it is not liable because of a conflict of interest on the part of Adolph Wenzel II. Because of this it said, the contract was not enforceable.

Wenzel, an officer and director of First Boston Corp., was made a Budget Bureau consultant in financing the proposed plant, which would have tied in the Tennessee Valley Authority system.

Dixon-Yates attorneys contended Wenzel's participation didn't have anything to do with the cancellation.

They argued the government withdrew because Memphis Tenn. decided to build its own power plant rather than to buy electricity from the West Memphis facility.

If Memphis hadn't taken this step, the government wouldn't have brought up the matter of Wenzel's participation, the Dixon-Yates spokesmen said.

Salesman Indicted in Wife's Slaying

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A former Little Rock Ark., salesman, Robert P. Uhlmann, 36, has been indicted for murder in the strangulation slaying of his wife last Aug. 21.

Uhlmann was named Wednesday by an Allegheny County Grand Jury in connection with the death of Gloria Mae Uhlmann, 37, at her nearby Baldwin Township home.

He was arrested at Little Rock the day of the crime. Detectives said he admitted a quick trip from Pittsburgh to Little Rock by bus and plane.

$1 Million Motel for Blytheville

BLYTHERVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A Blytheville real estate man has announced today that Sahara Motels, Inc., of Little Rock, will build a motel and restaurant here costing $1,000,000.

Kemp Whisenhunt, chairman of Sahara's Board of Directors, said construction would begin on the first 70 units by Jan. 1. The project later will be expanded to 100 units, he said.

The motel will be located at the intersection of Highway 61 and Route 55, Whisenhunt said.

President in California 'on Tour'

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—President Eisenhower, traveling under a non-political banner but doing some oblique missionary work for the Republicans, returns to the trial today in vote-rich California.

Refreshed by a day of golf and relaxation in this desert resort area, the President arranged to take off aboard his jet airliner at mid-morning for San Francisco.

The city is planning a big welcome for Eisenhower on a motorcade into the downtown area. Tonight he will make a major speech, reportedly on the international situation, at a dinner meeting of San Francisco's Commonwealth Club.

In advance of the address the only comment by the White House as to the theme was that it will be non-political—the label Press Secretary James C. Hagerty put on the President's cross-country tour when it was announced. Eisenhower started the nine-day trip last Monday.

California with its big bloc of 32 electoral votes is a local point in the presidential campaign efforts of the Republican candidate, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and the Democratic nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

So far on his tour Eisenhower has done no outright electioneering for Nixon, but he has come close to it. In Minnesota Tuesday, for example, he spoke of putting "the man of our choice" in the White House. There was no mistaking that as an indirect plug for Nixon.

Rotary to Hear Telephone Expert

Plans to expand worldwide communications by bouncing telephone calls off satellites orbiting in outer space will be described Friday to members of the Rotary Club.

Ralph Cook, demonstrations engineer for Southwestern Bell-Arkansas, will use complex, miniature equipment to demonstrate Project Echo, an experiment conducted by Bell Telephone Laboratories scientists in cooperation with federal government agencies.

Legion Starts Membership Drive

American Legion Commander Eugene Cox, announces that the 1961 membership drive is now in progress. All Legion members and eligible veterans are urged to pay their dues before November 11th. Vote Protest Case Moves to Prairie DES ARC, Ark. (AP)—Circuit Judge W. J. Waggoner today threw out all ballots cast in the home townships of the candidates in the contested Sereeton-Gunter senatorial election.

The decision covered ballots in the Magness Township of Lonoke County and the Hazen Township of Prairie County.

State Sen. Jerry Sereeton of Hazen got 931 votes to 30 for J. T. Gunter of Austin in Hazen Township.

Gunter polled 295 votes to 2 for Sereeton in Magness.

Waggoner said the verity of the judges and clerks' certificates in the two boxes had been destroyed by testimony during the trial.

The election contest moved back to Prairie County today after attorneys, Wednesday, agreed to a compromise settlement of a dispute over where the suit should be tried.

Sereeton's lawyers had asked the Arkansas Supreme Court to prohibit further hearings in Lonoke and to strike all testimony taken there.

The Supreme Court did not rule on this motion after opposing attorneys agreed to have the trial shifted back to Des Arc where the first hearings were held three weeks ago.

It was agreed to consider all testimony taken in Lonoke during the past two weeks as depositions. A deposition is sworn testimony taken out of court.

The trial had been due to return to Des Arc eventually anyway.

It began here but after two days of testimony for Gunter was shifted to Lonoke for testimony by Sereeton's side. Gunter's attorneys, over Sereeton's objections, then called some Prairie County witnesses to Lonoke.

Certified returns from the four-county district gave Sereeton the nomination, but Gunter filed suit challenging votes in Prairie County, which gave Sereeton his majority.

Sereeton, in reply, challenged votes in Lonoke County.

The trial was suspended Tuesday for the Supreme Court hearing.

Nixon Eliminated as a Witness

LITTLETON, N.H. (AP)—Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon has been eliminated as a possible witness, but big names continue today to occur in the federal tax evasion trial of Mark Granite, 78.

Nixon was wanted to identify, and therefore admit as evidence, a letter he wrote to Granite.

Dora Vele Granite, 62, began her testimony Wednesday and before adjournment put many notable names in the record as contributors to the Granite Foundation, set up by her husband as a nonprofit educational and historical operation.

The government contends he diverted foundation funds to his own uses, making them taxable. He is charged with failing to report $60,000 in personal income in a four-year period.

Okays Bond Issue

WEST MEMPHIS (AP)—Voters Wednesday approved a $100,000 industrial bond issue by a vote of 449-6.

The bonds will finance construction of a plant for Arco, Inc., which manufacturers pigment for dyeing brick, glass and other materials. Arco's rent will retire the bonds.

Russia Claims Atom Subs Are Rocket Armed

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev said today the Soviet Union, which is credited with the world's biggest undersea fleet, now has atom-powered submarines armed with nuclear rockets.

Khrushchev spoke before 15,000 Muscovites packed into Luzhniki Stadium. It was his first speech since he returned last week from his desk-pounding visit to the U.N. General Assembly.

A summary of his speech distributed by Tass news agency in English gave a paragraph to his announcement of the nuclear, rocket-armed subs.

It said "the Soviet Union in American generals and admirals in connection with the report that the Pentagon decided to send submarines armed with missiles and nuclear weapons to the shores of the Soviet Union."

He said new Western proposals to the U.N. assembly show the Western powers are continuing to use disarmament talks to cover up an arms race policy.

"They are an ill omen for the future," Khrushchev said.

Khrushchev said the first stage of the 15th General Assembly was marked in the main "by the struggle of the new, the progressive, with the old, the outworn, which was impeding the growth and development of the new."

His attendance was not only worthwhile but essential, he said. Declaring an extraordinary session should be held next March and April he said that it the heads of state and government agree in principle on a solution of the question of general and complete disarmament they could indicate the direction for additional work by a narrower panel.

He spoke of this panel as the "15-nation committee." The Soviet Union wants to expand the 10-nation East-West disarmament committee to 15 by the addition of five nations.

Colonial empires have fallen apart since World War II and now "their fragments are cracking up" while the Communist countries have emerged as a powerful camp, Khrushchev said.

He declared the United States no longer looms great on the international scene and has lost its military superiority, "although their ruling circles are still, under the delusion that they retain it."

He said the German problem must be solved and added that "apparently it should be solved in 1961"—without, however, saying precisely how.

Khrushchev described disarmament as "the hub of all vital problems of our time."

Price of Gold Soars in London

LONDON (AP)—The price of gold soared to an unprecedented high today. The London dollar price ranged between $37.50 and $38.50.

And as the price of the metal gained nearly $2.00 in frantic trading, gold shares leaped ahead in London Stock Exchange dealings.

At the official fixing this morning the gold price was set at $38.40 per ounce fine, but hectic trading soon rocketed it upward.

Cold Front Hits State, Low Is 27

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold front, followed by a mass of Canadian air, moved into Arkansas Wednesday, bringing the first freezing temperatures of the season.

Minimum temperatures of 27 degrees were reported at Fayetteville and Mountain Home and Gilbert recorded 28. Blytheville, Memphis and Newport all had 32 degrees.

High temperatures today were expected to range from the mid 40s in the north to the mid 50s in the south. Sub-freezing temperatures are expected in most areas tonight with a forecast reading in the 20s again in the north.

Other minimums Wednesday night included: Dandridge, 4; Fort Smith, 4; Ozark, 33; Walnut Ridge, 34; Little Rock, 36; Pine Bluff, 38; Camden, 44 and El Dorado, 45.

Full effect of the cold wave had not reached south Arkansas last night.

Won't Reverse Soil Bank Stand

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley Wednesday refused to interfere with government cancellation of $4,162.37 in soil bank payments to two Jackson County farmers.

The two whose petition Henley rejected are R. G. Holden of Route 2, Newport, and W. E. Conner of Newport, trustee of the G. D. Clements estate.

Under the conservation reserve phase of the soil bank program the plaintiffs three years ago agreed to take land out of production and establish soil conservation practices. The government was to share in the expense and pay an annual rental on the land until the contracts expired in 1961.

Last year the state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said that Holden and Conner had filed false claims for the government's share of the expenses and had misused purchase orders issued to them.

The committee had authorized cost-share payments of $1,430.90 to Holden and $6,731.41 to Conner. It cancelled the prospective payments but allowed the contracts to remain in effect. Holden and Conner are still receiving rent on the land involved.

Find No Fraud in Hamburg Vote

HAMBURG, Ark. (AP)—The Ashley County Grand Jury has reported that its investigation of alleged voting irregularities at Portland uncovered no evidence of fraud.

Nolin Jeffress of Crosscut, a defeated candidate for tax assessor in the Aug. 9 Democratic runoff primary, and 22 other persons signed a statement alleging irregularities in the Portland precinct.

Jeffress got only three votes to 179 for the winner, Tom Durham of Hamburg, in the Portland box.

Action Follows Curtailment of U. S. Exports

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department recalled U.S. Ambassador Philip W. Bonsal from Cuba today for extended consultation.

Disclosure of the recall action came a day after the United States imposed an embargo on an estimated $200-million worth of American products normally sold to Cuba.

This economic blow was coupled with a new State Department charge of Cuban antagonism and hatred against the United States.

Bonsal's recall was coupled with indications in official quarters that he personally might not return to his Havana post. He took the assignment in February 1959.

Officials said Bonsal was coming back for "extended consultations."

That indicated the Havana post would be left vacant and U.S. representation would be left in the hands of a lower-ranking diplomat, for a number of weeks at least.

Officials in position to know denied any intention on the part of the State Department to withhold an ambassador from Havana for a prolonged period as a kind of political blow at the pro-Communist Fidel Castro regime.

State Department officials said Bonsal's recall was not a move to break diplomatic relations with Cuba.

Announcement of Bonsal's recall came while the United States apparently faces serious difficulties in imposing any major new economic or political pressures on Cuba.

Proclamation

To All to Whom These Presents
Shall Come — Greetings:

Whereas, October 16 through 22 has been designated National Forest Products Week by special legislation in the National Congress introduced by Arkansas
Senator John L. McClellan;

Whereas, the forest and wood products industries of Arkansas employ more people, have higher payrolls and higher product value than any other manufacturing industry in the State; and

Whereas, this great industry practices strict self-imposed conservation programs, replacing more of our natural resources than it uses; and advocates conservation to the general public of Arkansas through the Keep Arkansas Green Association program;

Whereas, the State and our Nation owe a great debt to an industry supplying many of the necessities and luxuries contributing to our higher level of living;

Now, Therefore, I, Orval E.
Faubus, Governor of the State of Arkansas, do hereby proclaim the week of October 16-22, 1960, as National Forest Products Week in Arkansas in recognition of Arkansas' great forest and wood products industries and of the thousands of dedicated men and women engaged in producing and supplying material and finished wood products to millions of consumers throughout the world.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Ar-

Kennedy Says

Nov. 8.
And he added that while he was replying to Nixon "the total record of Nixon's misstatements, slurs and distortions could not possibly be answered in a single white paper."

On various points, the Kennedy
rejoinder said:

Kennedy had contended the United States last year had the lowest rate of economic growth of any major industrial society; Nixon said the rate was 6.9 per cent higher than that of major European powers. Kennedy replied the Joint Economic Committee of Congress placed the 1959-60 average at 2.3 per cent half the Western European average.

leaders. Instead he recommended working sessions for each major industry to analyze its own problems.

Nixon addressed the convention of business economists in his only scheduled engagement of his second day in New York. He meets his Democratic opponent — Sen.
John F. Kennedy — here in the last of their televised debates Friday night.

Wednesday, he accused Kennedy of glaring misstatements on his campaign issues, arguing the Massachusetts senator had obscured or failed to tell the truth about achievements of the Eisenhower administration.

Nixon quoted remarks by his Democratic rival for the presidency and followed each with statements which he characterized as the facts. His accounts sought to show that Kennedy has given a false picture of the Eisenhower administration and that the administration's record was one of accomplishment in each field.

After firing what he called his "white paper" at Kennedy, Nixon joined the senator at the head-table of the Alfred E. Smith memorial dinner. Both addressed the dinner and there Nixon agreed with the senator that religion should never be a campaign issue. "Nixon drew more applause than did Kennedy at the dinner

Plan Is News to Premier of Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The U.S. State Department in Washington has announced resumption of salary payments to the Laotian army, but the premier of Laos said today this was news to him.
"It must be a mistake," said the neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma. "They must mean economic, not military aid. I have had no information that military assistance has been resumed."

With Laos split three ways by civil war, it is physically impossible to distribute American aid to all troops of the splintered Laotian army, as the United States insists it must do.

Top officials of the U.S. operations mission also said they had not yet been informed of any resumption of U.S. military aid to Laos.

Salary payments to the Laotian army and other military assistance accounts for nearly 90 per cent of the $40-million annual U.S. aid program in Laos.

College Student Dies in Crash

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) —
Larry Charles Cone, a 20-year-old Arkansas State Teachers College student, was killed and a companion injured early today when their car crashed into a ditch and overturned about eight miles north of here on U.S. Highway 65.
Cone's body was pinned under the car, which came to rest on its top.

William Davis Thomas, 20, of Harrisburg, also an ASTC student, was hospitalized at Little Rock.

State Police said Cone, the driver, apparently lost control on a curve. The car plunged into a ditch and overturned several times.

The accident occurred shortly after midnight.

Cone was the son of Mr. and Mrs.
Charles Cone of near Harrison.

Local Matter Says Faubus of Gaming

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov.
Orval E. Faubus says he has not tried to prevent gambling in the state because he regards gaming law enforcement as a local matter.

Not is local enforcement of gambling laws a "duty" for the State Police, Faubus told a news conference Monday.

He said primary concern of the State Police is traffic enforcement.
He added that state troopers aided county officers on request or where there was a breakdown in local law enforcement.

"But they haven't any business stepping in otherwise," Faubus said.

"By and large local law enforcement officers give people the kind of law enforcement they demand," Faubus said.

"Nobody can do what the local people don't want done."

Demos Work on Reply to GOP Blast

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. John Kennedy's staff worked today on a detailed reply to a broadside launched Wednesday from the Republican camp.

In the blast Vice President Richard M. Nixon accused Kennedy of misstatements and distortions in 13 instances during the campaign on matters covering practically all the disputed issues.

A Kennedy spokesman said the Nixon "white paper" will be answered point-by-point later today.

Kennedy said Wednesday night at a charity dinner honoring the late Alfred B. Smith that he does not expect the religious issue to decide the presidential election.

Although he struck this serious note at the Al Smith dinner, Kennedy spoke for the most part light-heartedly as he shared the platform with Nixon.

Among other politically pointed barbs, he said he thought the "worst news" for the Republicans
this week was the firing of Casey Stengel as manager of the New York Yankees.

"It must show that perhaps experience does not count," he said, hitting at one of Nixon's main campaign contentions.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro lives, is in a hospital for treatment of a bullet wound in his side, El Mundo, the government-controlled newspaper reported today.
It gave no details of the shooting.

Amador Barletta Jr., exiled Cuban newspaper editor, said in Bogota, Colombia, Tuesday that he had received a report of an attempt on Castro's life Sunday.

A spokesman at Castro's Havana office denied any attempt to assassinate the prime minister had taken place.

Barletta said he was told Castro was in a house next to the Italian Embassy at the time of the shooting. The Italian ambassador had reported in Havana that two bullets struck the embassy residence on Sunday about 2 a.m.

Later Sunday morning, Castro and the national police chief passed the embassy and talked with police investigating the shooting, which has not been officially announced or explained by the police.

Is It Love Or Propinquity?

By HELEN WORDEN BRISKINE
Dear Helen:
You probably receive hundreds of "I don't love me, please don't forget him" letters. A big problem is just the opposite. This boy does love me. Could you help me learn to love him?

I would never want to hurt somebody as good as he by not being able to really love him if we did marry.

I am the second girl he has ever gone with. He is 20 years old. I won't be 18 until this month and have already gone with many different boys. I am in my freshman year at this university on a $500 scholarship. My boy friend's company is putting him through his business school.

All of my life I have held high morals. I have tried to figure out why I gave myself completely to this boy. I guess it was because he was so good to everyone. I thought he couldn't be wrong. We decided to run away and get married.

I asked him if he could love me even a little after this. When he answered, "Honey, I love you a whole lot right now. Don't you were pink face and also had blinding accessories. Each had a white carnation corsage.

After the ceremony the couple received their guests in the foyer of the church, where Mrs. John Tom Birlon of El Dorado had charge of the bride's book.

The newweds will make their home in Magnolia where he is a junior at Southern State.

U. S. M. C. Capt. Max Murphy will arrive this weekend for a visit with his mother, Mrs. H. C. Murphy. Wednesday they will go to Tyler, Texas to visit Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Murphy, Jr. Capt. Murphy will leave Tyler to be stationed overseas in Okinawa.

Dear Confused: Ordinarily, I would say 27 years difference is too great a gamble. But your situation is different and there are always exceptions to the rule. I knew a girl of 30 who married a man 27 years older than she. Now she is 40, and he is 67. They have two lovely children and could live to be happily married.

If you and this man love one another, take the chance.

Dear Helen:
I am very much in love with a girl who lives in another town and she loves me. But every time I go to visit her, her girl friend is there. She won't go anywhere without that girl friend. This girl friend won't go anywhere so we're stuck. I bring boys along for her, but she won't talk to them unless we are around. How can we get away from our friends and talk in private? — J. C. T.

Dear J. C. T.: It looks as if you cared more for your girl than she for you. Stop being faithful. Find

Can you help me prepare myself during this year of college, to be able to accept him with a mature love a year from now? Whether I continue my schooling or not? — L.

Dear L.: I'm not so sure you really love this nice boy. If you did you wouldn't raise the question. In fairness to him, don't marry until you know deep down in your heart that he is the one and only boy for you. This year's absence will clarify your thinking. Companionship is one thing; physical love another. Unless you have both, no marriage can be happy. Don't compromise.

Dear Helen:
I am very much in love with a girl who lives in another town and she loves me. But every time I go to visit her, her girl friend is there. She won't go anywhere without that girl friend. This girl friend won't go anywhere so we're stuck. I bring boys along for her, but she won't talk to them unless we are around. How can we get away from our friends and talk in private? — J. C. T.

Dear J. C. T.: It looks as if you cared more for your girl than she for you. Stop being faithful. Find

Can you help me prepare myself during this year of college, to be able to accept him with a mature love a year from now? Whether I continue my schooling or not? — L.

Dear L.: I'm not so sure you really love this nice boy. If you did you wouldn't raise the question. In fairness to him, don't marry until you know deep down in your heart that he is the one and only boy for you. This year's absence will clarify your thinking. Companionship is one thing; physical love another. Unless you have both, no marriage can be happy. Don't compromise.

Dear Helen:
I am 21, have a little girl 11 months old and keep house for a wonderful gentleman (for room, board and pin money, I have worked for him a year and a half and fell in love with him and him

Don't let her be too sure of your devotion. Try dating other girls.

Dear Helen:
Maybe you could help my sister who is 18. She likes a boy very much and I think he likes her. They see each other at dances but never talk. Lots of times he has come over to talk to her, then backed out. How could my sister get him to talk? It's been going on like this for almost two months. — Cupid.

Dear Cupid: Tell your sister to forget him. Still waters don't run deep. The boy probably doesn't talk because he has nothing to say. He might find his tongue if she passed him up for another, but I doubt it. Even she still believes he's the boy for her, it's worth the try.

Believes Hope to Come Back at Magnolia

Two vital games — one each in Classes AAA and AA — highlighted this week's Arkansas prep football schedule.

Little Rock Central, the Big Nine Conference leader, visits El Dorado, which is celebrating homecoming. And Helena, ranked first this week among Class AA teams, takes on Stuttgart in the Region 2AA showdown.

Helena is unbeaten, untied and unscored on in seven games. Stuttgart is unbeaten in conference play and is ranked fourth in Class AA.

Little Rock Central is unbeaten in six games but faces a stern test against the big, solid but unlucky Wildcats. El Dorado has lost three of five games but still ranks seventh in the state.

Fort Smith is heavily favored over Texarkana in the only other Big Nine Conference game this week. The rest of the Big Nine teams meet sturdy Class AA opposition.

Central and Helena rank as favorites in the two big games, but El Dorado and Stuttgart are good upset selections.

Here's the week's outlook: Central 21, El Dorado 13. The Wildcats will put up a fierce battle, but Central has worked up enough momentum to overcome them. An interesting battle of up-front fighters.

Fort Smith 27, Texarkana 6. No trouble for the Grizzlies, who are waiting now for Central to slip up.

Little Rock 14, Benton 0. Hall has an easier time than last year, when it won 9-7. But Benton is up for this one.

Blytheville 7, Jonesboro 6. A tossup between these two old Arkansas rivals. Blytheville gets the home field edge, and has faced better opposition.

Hot Springs 13, Smackover 6. Hot Springs extends its winning streak to two games after losing 18 in a row.

Conway 20, North Little Rock 0. The Region 3AAA power has too much speed and talent for the Wildcats, who are in an off-year.

Pine Bluff 26, Camden 12. Camden to put up a fight after an invigorating upset victory over Crossett, but the Panthers don't have the manpower to beat Pine Bluff, ranked second this week.

Joplin, Mo. 12, Fayetteville 7. Bulldogs haven't been the same since they lost to Rogers.

Rogers 13, Harrison 0. Mountaineers roll toward 1AA title and an unbeaten season.

Springdale 19, Bentonville 7. Bentonville offers no challenge for sometimes adequate Springdale.

Van Buren 13, Subiaco 12. A good one, Van Buren rating the edge on the home field.

Forrest City 20, Paragould 0. Paragould better this year, but not good enough to beat the Mustangs.

Helena 13, Stuttgart 7. The season's best Class AA game. Stuttgart lost only to Benton — by one point. And Helena will be trying to extend its sensational string. The winner will be 2AA champ, even though Wynne still stands in the way of Helena. This would be the last hurdle for Stuttgart.

West Memphis 7, Newport 0. Tossup between two second-division 2AA outfits.

Wynne 20, Searcy 0. If the Yellowjackets have their mind on business.

Little Rock Catholic 6, Morrilton 0. A squeaker for the Catholics, who are having trouble finding

Porks Work on Passing and Defense

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The University of Arkansas Razorbacks stressed pass defense in their tough drill today in preparation for Saturday's encounter with Mississippi in Little Rock.

Coach Frank Broyles also is emphasizing the Porks' own passing game, noting that the best yardage against the Rebels this year has come through the air.

The Hogs worked on pass protection Tuesday, with Broyles explaining that the Ole Miss pass defense depends on rushing the passer.

Broyles worked the Porks Tuesday against the passing threat of Jake Gibbs, called by the Arkansas mentor "the finest tosser he's seen at Ole Miss."

Fullback Lance Alworth should be ready to go at full speed against the Rebels, after having been slowed with a knee injury for two weeks. Wayne Harris again will go at center on both offense and defense, with the injured Billy Gramlich handling the long snaps for punts and placekicks.

Fullback Joe Paul Alberty, who has a sprained foot, is the only Razorback who won't play Saturday.

LET EXPERT PACK THEM

Glasses Ride In 'Safety Cells'

Busy housewives nowadays can escape packing drudgery and avoid accidents to fragile glassware by turning that part of the moving job over to professionals. Here, a Mayflower packing expert demonstrates "safety-cell" service, the newest method of packing fragile. Delicate glasses are wrapped individually in paper, then each is placed in its own "cell" (inset), a separate compartment of sturdy cardboard designed to give easily broken glassware and crystal maximum protection on all sides. This faster, more economical service means safer, cleaner move to new home.

GOPs Britt Raps State Merit System

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—Henry M. Britt of Hot Springs, the Republican candidate for governor, carried his campaign into south central Arkansas today, calling for reforms in the tax system, education and the state merit system.

Britt was to appear in Camden, Stephens, Chidester and other towns in that area.

In a speech Tuesday night, to a Clark County Republican dinner in Arkadelphia, Britt called for plugging what he said were loopholes in the state's merit system. He also called for an analysis of the state's tax structure, by nonpartisan experts, Britt said.

thought, governmental efficiency could be improved and that no tax increase was needed.

He added that school teachers could be given a $4,200 basic minimum annual wage without a tax boost. He also called for a single college board and election of the education commissioner.

Britt again struck out at proposed Amendment 52, a school-closing measure to be on the November ballot, and also plugged heavily for the national GOP ticket headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon. He attacked both Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic candidate, and the Democratic party's platform.

Britt plans a five-day campaign tour to hit 19 cities.

Cooler Air May Change Food Buying

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nippier weather in many sections of the country inspired supermarkets and neighborhood stores to offer sturdy fare as specials for this weekend.

Beef roasts and steak of varied cuts top the list.

Housewives apparently will have plenty of beef to choose from the rest of this year. The Department of Agriculture said farmers plan to market 59 per cent of the 5,075,000 head of cattle now on feed for the quality slaughter market. A year ago they marketed 55 per cent of the 5,001,000 head on feed.

Chickens are being pushed again this week as special offerings. But prices are generally up from two to seven cents a pound from last week.

Smoked hams and various cuts of lamb are getting the featured treatment in Eastern chain stores.

Egg prices finally took a dive after reaching their highs of the year. In the New York metropolitan area, the price of large whites dropped eight cents a dozen to 67 cents. Elsewhere declines ranged from one to 13 cents a dozen.

Canned peas and corn are going to cost more this winter because supplies are in closer balance with demand.

Orange juice prices are staying low despite hurricane damage to the Florida crop.

Best vegetable buys are cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, medium size onions, potatoes, spinach, napa cabbage and orange Jersey sweet potato, parsnips, pumpkins and nearby peppers.

Good buys are large artichokes, broccoli, rabe, carrots, celery, nearby lettuce, mushrooms, parsley, California peppers, large Western onions, green squash and Puerto Rico sweet potatoes.

In the expensive category are beans, cucumbers, green peas and Western russet potatoes.

Among fruits the best bargains are Cortland McIntosh apples, bananas and Tokay grapes.

Two Charged in Auto Thefts

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Federal car theft charges have been filed against two men arrested at a State Police roadblock set up for two other men in a stolen car. William David Griffin, 27, alias William J. Brock, of Bethel, Ohio, and J. K. Lakes, 24, of Hamilton, Ohio, waived a hearing before U. S. Commissioner John G. Holland Tuesday and were held in lieu of $1,000 bond on charges of interstate transportation of a stolen car.

The roadblock had been set up to watch for Robert Price and Lonnie Esky, both 17 and both from Salina, Okla., who had fled on foot from a wrecked stolen car. Trooper caught Griffin and Lakes by chance in a car they said was stolen in Ohio.

The Oklahoma youths, caught soon after the car was wrecked, were returned to Stilwell, Okla.

Efforts Fail to Save Workman

METROPOLIS, Ill. (AP)—Three big earth-moving machines and more than 100 volunteer workers struggled vainly for three hours Tuesday to save a workman buried when a 23-foot deep trench caved in. The victim was Carlton Caldwell, 52. He was working at the bottom of the ditch when the walls slid in.

Full Data on Nixon-Nikita Talks Asked

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, continuing to press for release of the full text of conversations between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Nikita Khrushchev last year, wants to know if Nixon told the Soviet premier he regretted the timing of a United States "captive nations" resolution.

Fulbright wrote Secretary of State Christian Herter Tuesday that he had been informed Nixon told Khrushchev that "neither he nor the President would deliberately have chosen to have a resolution of this type passed just before his (Nixon's) visit to the U.S.S.R."

The resolution was passed by Congress and signed by President Eisenhower. It called for proclamation of a "captive nations" week to underscore the condition of residents of countries behind the Iron Curtain.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, wrote that in the presidential campaign between Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy much had been said about the timing of the U2 spy plane incident several months ago.

"Yet," the Arkansas Democrat said, "Mr. Nixon apparently has felt that the timing of the captive nations resolution was important."

"Furthermore a great deal has been said during the campaign of the alleged ability of the vice president to stand up to Khrushchev," he added. "Yet apparently in connection with the captive nations resolution, he indicated his regret over the timing."

Renewing the request he first made Sept. 23, Fulbright has told Herter that since a part of the conversations have been used politically in Nixon's behalf, the complete record should be released.

"I believe...that a failure to make the records public at this time would constitute a serious blow to the non-partisan conduct of our foreign relations which has been a characteristic of United States foreign policy since the war," Fulbright said.

Fulbright first asked release of the transcripts after noting that the New York Herald Tribune, in a series of articles by Earl Mazo, had quoted from the conversations.

He was told that State Department officials were "unable" to determine that any official of the department had made any of the records available to any news-paper reporter.

Fulbright declined to accept this.

"The fact is that the texts of the Nixon-Khrushchev conversations have been given to one reporter who used them in a selective way for a partisan purpose, namely to prove that the Republican presidential candidate knows how to deal with Mr. Khrushchev," Fulbright wrote Herter.

He said that obviously no security considerations are involved since the full content is known to Khrushchev.

Also, he said, the records have been available to scores of department officials.

But if, "unknown to me, the records of the conversations contain some secrecy classification," Fulbright asked, what action has been taken to fix responsibility for an obvious breach of the department's security regulations?

Fulbright added: "I am fully aware that my initiative in raising these questions at this time will be viewed to some quarters as motivated by political considerations."

"I wish to assure you, however, Mr. Secretary, that inasmuch as the records of these conversations have already been put to a political use, I believe nothing short of their full publication will serve to remove from the minds of many Americans the strong feeling that official foreign policy documents have been put to a self-serving, partial, partisan use."

Candidates Must Draw for Places

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Garland County candidates in the Nov. 8 general election must draw for their positions on the ballot, the state attorney general's office has ruled.

Printing of ballots was ordered held up after the opinion was received Tuesday.

Reed Landis, Republican candidate for county judge, asked for the opinion after two members of the Garland County Election Commission voted last week to list Democratic candidates first. They said this was the way it had always been done.

Landis said that positions should be chosen by lot. He and John Roddie, Republican candidate for county clerk, were supported in their protests by Roy Mitchell, Republican member of the commission.

Chairman Julian Glover and member Harvey Craig, both Democrats, voted to list Democratic candidates first.

THE "HOO-HOO" and NATIONAL FOREST PRODUCTS WEEK

The first annual observance of National Forest Products Week is primarily the brainchild of the International Brotherhood of Foresters.

And, what is "Hoo-Hoo"? The order, made up of 15,000 lumbermen, foresters and others engaged in forestry and allied lines, got its start in Gerdon, Arkansas, in 1892.

The Hoo-Hoo, feeling that one of America's leading industries should be honored during one week of the year, promoted Senate Joint Resolution 209, a bill introduced by Arkansas Senator John U. McClellan.

The bill cleared both houses and was signed into law by President Eisenhower.

Now, on October 16 through 22, America's wood products industries will be recognized for its outstanding contribution to the economy of Arkansas, and the nation.

Election Suit Taken to High Court

LONOKE, Ark. (AP) — A 19th Senatorial District primary election contest suit was stalled today by an appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Attorneys for state Sen. Jerry J. Screeton of Hazen, apparent victor in the Aug. 9 Democratic runoff, asked the high court Tuesday to decide whether testimony in an election contest suit filed by J. T. Gunter of Austin can be heard in Lonoke Circuit Court.

Screeton also asked that the high court rule out testimony taken so far in Lonoke County, with the case to revert to the status of two weeks ago when the hearing was moved from Des Arc to Lonoke.

The Supreme Court was to hear the plea today. There was no indication when a ruling would come, but Circuit Judge W. Waggoner said the Coreelon-Gunter hearing would be delayed until after a Supreme Court decision.

The hearing started in Des Arc, in Prairie Circuit Court, but shifted to Lonoke after two days. In the first two days attorneys for Gunter presented testimony to support their challenge of Prairie County votes.

The move to Lonoke was to enable Screeton to offer testimony to support his challenge of some Lonoke County ballots. Gunter's attorneys, however, later called some additional Prairie County witnesses to testify in Lonoke. Objections by Screeton's attorneys were overruled.

Certified returns from the four-county district made Screeton the winner, but Gunter challenged the outcome.

During Tuesday's court session, Joe Sentell of Magness Township (Lonoke County) testified that he had been allowed to cast ballots both for himself and for a son, Jimmy, who is stationed with the armed forces in Biloxi, Miss.

Texas Town Hit With 6.8 Inches Rain

VICTORIA, Tex. (AP)—A powerful squall line hit Victoria with a one-inch punch Tuesday night, dumping 6.8 inches of rain on the city, sweeping cars down flooded streets, driving about 200 persons from their homes and smashing some plate glass windows in stores.

The storm hit the city in two waves, packing winds up to 52 miles an hour and driving, blinding rain. Water ran five feet deep in some areas, Fire Chief M. S. Shaw said.

It came during a day in which Texas felt the brunt of tornadoes, thunderstorms and rains that caused heavy property damage.

Victoria Advocate reporter Jim Carter said one Victoria couple, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Machalech, abandoned their car on a bridge over Dry Creek and climbed a tree for safety. Moments later floodwater swept their car from the bridge. Firemen rescued the couple.

Water sweeping down a street carried a Victoria Advocate delivery truck parked in front of the newspaper building a half block. Other cars floated away in high water in low-lying parts of the city.

Five persons were evacuated from their homes by boat and others were carried to safety in police cars and fire trucks. No estimate of the damage was available.

Russia Lines Up With Cuba Against U. S.

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union lined up quickly behind Cuba's newest efforts to have the United Nations condemn the United States on charges of waging aggression against the regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Valerian A. Zorin, Soviet deputy foreign minister, told the U. N. Political Committee the Cuban charges showed to the entire world that the United States was continuing a war-like policy while talking peace in the United Nations.

Zorin threw in the charge, during presentation of the Soviet position on disarmament.

Cuba accused the United States Tuesday night of waging aggression against Castro's regime as a prelude to a "grand scale" military invasion.

Foreign Minister Raul Roa submitted the charges to the assembly president, Frederick H. Boland, with a request that they be given "the fastest possible consideration."

But Manuel Bisbe, Cuba's permanent representative to the United Nations, told a reporter today "we are in the hands of the

Bankrupt Firm's Official to Trial

LITTLE ROCK, (AP) — Municipal Judge Quinn Glover today set the trial of Allen C. Springer, former president of the now bankrupt Arkansas Business Development Corp., who is charged with embezzlement, for Oct. 27.

The charge against Springer was dismissed two weeks ago because prosecuting witnesses failed to appear at an earlier trial. Glover set aside the dismissal order at the request of attorney Claude Carpenter Jr.

Springer has been free on $3,000 bond. Bankruptcy hearings on the ABCDC are underway in U. S. District Court.

Wanted Men Flee Into the Woods

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Two men, one of them thought by state police to be an escapee from the Oklahoma State Prison, ran into woods 10 miles west of here today after their stolen car struck a pickup truck on U. S. Highway 64.

State police and sheriff's officers converged on the woods. They said one of the men answers the description of Erwin Summers, 29, who escaped Oct. 6 from the Oklahoma State Prison, where he was serving a term for burglary in the second degree.

The car was stolen today at Westville, Okla.

The search was centered in the Coal Hill area of Johnson County.

Cuba Bought Parts Before Trade Ban

HAVANA, (AP) — Fidel Castro's government took full advantage of a long Washington debate on whether to apply economic sanctions in Cuba to import millions of dollars worth of essential items from the United States in advance of today's curbs on U. S. trade.

Economic experts said that if Cuban factories continue to operate and automobile wheels to turn before the Soviet bloc can take over supply, it is because shiploads of spare parts were rushed here from the United States in the past few weeks.

The new curbs are expected to toughen the confiscation of all remaining U. S. holdings in Cuba. They also may touch off a formal Cuban demand that the United States abandon its huge Guantanamo naval base. Prime Minister Castro may even break diplomatic relations.

The search was centered in the Coal Hill area of Johnson County.

Stuffed Peppers Fall Favorite

With the first tinge of fall in the air appetites yearn for heartier fare. In tune with the new season are rice-stuffed green peppers. Rice, which is plentiful and attractively priced, becomes savory when added to a Tabasco-seasoned tomato and onion mixture and spooned into peppers and baked. Tabasco, the liquid red pepper seasoning, adds the spark that lifts one dish right out of the ordinary.

Tabasco Rice Stuffed Green Peppers
 1/2 cup raw rice
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 1 cup sliced onion
 1/2 cup diced green pepper
 1 bay leaf
 2 teaspoons sugar
 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
 1/2 cup diced green pepper
 1 bay leaf
 2 teaspoons sugar
 6 green peppers

Cook rice according to package directions. Melt butter; add onion and cook until tender, but not brown. Add salt, tomatoes, tomato sauce, Tabasco, green pepper, bay leaf and sugar. Cook, uncovered, 20 minutes. While tomato mixture is simmering, wash peppers. Cut slice from stem end; remove seeds. Place in boiling water; cook 5 minutes. Remove from water; drain. Stir cooked rice into tomato mixture; spoon into peppers. Place in shallow baking pan. If desired, sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Horoscope Proved Out for Boone

By BOB THOMAS
 AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—The president of Coega Mooga, Inc., sat in the penthouse offices with his white buckskins under the long, polished desk.

He told of a prophecy. "This fellow made out a horoscope at the first of the year and sent it to me. He said that it would be a good year for me, although I would be ending one phase of my career and starting another and that I would be having some spare time. Of course, I don't put my stock in such things, but my golly if it didn't come true."

Pat Boone was talking about the abrupt changes in his life and career. He has moved his wife and four daughters to California and wonders why he didn't do it sooner. He has dropped off a weekly TV show to pursue other phases of his multifaceted career, especially movies.

What happened to TV? He explained the series of events: ABC wanted him to do an hour-long Saturday night show, a la Perry Como. But the Boone sponsor didn't want to go a full hour. While efforts were made to find a co-sponsor, the time was half-filled by a firm offer for "Leave It to Beaver." Meanwhile, Pat decided to drop off weekly TV.

"I had been on every week for three years," he said. "I had movies that (knock wood) did very well. I had records and I had a book that sold 400,000 in hard cover. I don't know of any performer who had so much exposure."

"I figured I was pushing my luck to continue on TV every week. People would get sick of seeing me."

"So I decided to spend more time with records, to make personal appearances that I had been unable to do, and do two pictures a year instead of one."

The other part of the prophecy has also come true: "I've been able to spend some time at home. For five years, I've been telling my wife that some day I'd be able to stay home more. Now she's trying to think of ways to get me out of the house."

at each other's house. But how will I get the reports out here?" "As long as Knabe's here I can come out often," said the Principle. "I can even walk."

"That's fine, occasionally," Luchino said. "But it can so easily attract attention, especially now that we have all our eggs in one basket. The radio is here, too. It's already so dangerous that we can hardly afford to have Principle, Di Mont'Alto and Marchese Rossini seen going back and forth every day. No, we need a regular courier service. The only possible person, except for my old Partenopa—and she's too old—is the boy, Livio."

"Who is this boy, Livio?" asked Mont'Alto.

"He's the son of Ciccio—you know, I've told you about him. We had to get him and his whole family out of Rome. They're at the Rossini's place in the country. But the boy, who has helped his father in a lot of our—"

"Oh!" said Felice. "The little boy who brought my dog back?" Luchino walked over to the door and opened it. "Livio! Livio!" he called.

"Si, Signor Conte!" The answer did not come from outdoors, but from the kitchen.

"Come here, please, . . . Livio, this is Signora Cavo—and her father. They are very good friends of mine," said Luchino.

"Oh, Eccellenza, piacere," Livio kissed the hand, first of Felice and then of Mont'Alto.

"The Signori own this land, Livio," said Luchino, "and they need vegetables and eggs every day in Rome. Will you carry them in for them?"

"I have no cart."

"I have a bicycle," Felice smiled at the boy as she spoke. "You can have it. If you don't mind riding on a girl's bicycle—do you?"

"Oh no, Signora Eccellenza. It would be an honor to ride your bicycle—and I will take good care of it. No one will steal it from me!"

As the days and the weeks of May went by, the handle bars of Felice's bicycle still contained, several evenings every week, new and specific information about the German withdrawal; and when they did not hold a report from Signora Cao, they held a letter from Felice for Luchino. Occasionally, when Livio was eating or sleeping in the afternoons, Luchino found it possible to slip in a reply to Felice.

On the 20th of May the report was short and exciting: "General withdrawal from Cassino position morning the 22nd. Twenty-first, Kesselring staff leaves for Florence. Only six rear-echelon officers will continue."

CHAPTER XXVIII

Felice and her father arrived unexpectedly at the Ardeatina farm. Luchino's disapproval of such a dangerous gesture was more than overcome by his delight in seeing Felice until he noticed over their shoulder, as they stood in the doorway, the German car which had brought them.

"Don't worry about the car," said Mont'Alto. "It's Knabe's. Said I had to visit some tenant farmers. How are my tenant farmers?"

"Felice, you know I am pleased. But it's dangerous—a German car at our door . . ."

"I can't imagine a safer way to come," Mont'Alto replied. "Besides, our information is so important to wait—the Germans are preparing to pull out of Rome. Knabe has been transferred to Zagreb and the whole staff of the German SS intelligence—"

"The SD?" asked Paolo.

"Yes. A thug named Kraft and all his staff were arrested last night."

"How do you know this?"

"Felice, of course. Tell them, Felice."

"Well," began Felice, "Colonel Cao, who heads the Red Cross, married a German woman—oh, many years ago. Both of them—but especially she—finally couldn't stand the Germans—the Nazis—any longer. She—and this is the important fact—for a year has been a confidential secretary to Kesselring's aide-de-camp. As a security measure, the job had to be filled by a German."

"Colonel Cao sent a friend into the Vatican to see Captain Franceschelli to ask how they could best help against the Germans. Franceschelli sent them to you—and when they couldn't find you, he asked me where you were."

"From there on we understood each other. They would supply me with information. This morning we had an appointment at our hairdresser's. It seemed an innocent place. And she gave me this information."

"When's Knabe leaving?" asked Paolo.

"She said this week. Zagreb is considered a sort of exile—and dangerous."

"On what does she base the statement that the Germans are leaving, about to a-b-a-n-d-o-n Rome?" Paolo asked.

"A general order to prepare to withdraw within a few days. Trucks of filing cabinets are leaving today for Florence."

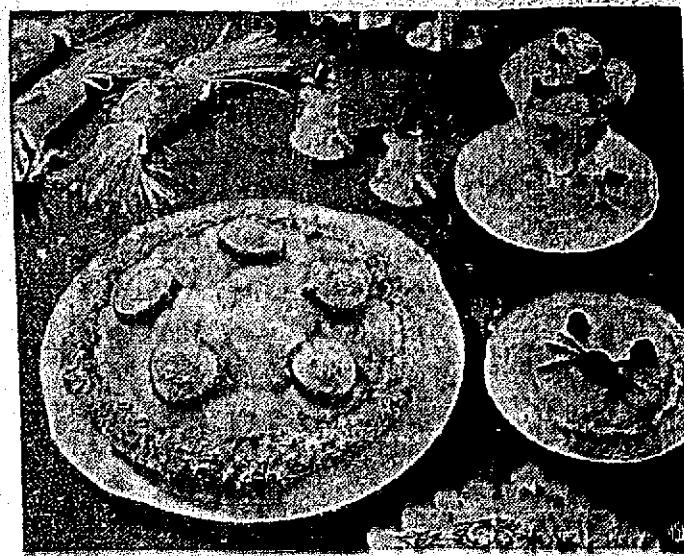

"And the SD arrests?"

"General Kaitenbrunner flew in last night, unannounced, and carried them all off by air. Signora Cao said the aide had a report on his desk this morning."

"Is this a one-time offer of information?" Paolo went on questioning her, "or will she give it to us regularly?"

"Regularly. I can manage the contact with her to pick up the information. Women do have tea

Bewitching Dessert

A colorful Orange Frost dessert is sure to steal the scene on Halloween when served at a "Trick or Treat" party. To serve it as pie, simply pour a mixture of whipped orange-flavored gelatin and chilled vanilla pudding into a pie shell and decorate with Halloween candies. Use the same filling but vary the decoration to make Orange Frost Tarts, or serve it in compotes as a chilled pudding.

Orange Frost Pie

1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix

2 cups milk

1 package (3-oz.) orange-flavored gelatin

1 cup hot water

1/2 cup cold water

1 baked deep 9-inch pie shell

Combine pudding mix and milk in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Pour into bowl. (To avoid surface film, place waxed paper directly on surface of hot pudding.) Chill.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Set bowl firmly in ice and water. Whip gelatin with egg beater until fluffy and thick.

Add chilled pudding gradually to the fluffy gelatin, beating after each addition until well blended. Pour into pie shell. Chill until firm (about 1 hour). Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Quick 'N' Easy Sundae Sauce

We all like to dress up ice cream for festive occasions, and sundae sauce is one that is easy to make and tastes like a party dessert. Here's a delicious "Fruit Sauce" you can make quickly with canned fruit cocktail.

Drain the syrup from a 1-lb. 14-oz. can fruit cocktail into saucepan; heat. Blend 1/2 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons cornstarch and 1/4 teaspoon salt; stir into hot syrup; cook and stir until mixture boils, is clear and thickened. Remove from heat and stir in 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4 cup light rum (or 1 teaspoon rum extract) and 1 tablespoon grenadine syrup (or use a drop or two of red food coloring instead of grenadine). Add drained fruit cocktail. Chill thoroughly. Serve over vanilla ice cream. Makes about 3 1/2 cups sauce.

Candidates Agree U. S. to Be Prepared

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Richard M. Nixon and John F. Kennedy agreed today there will be a step-up in United States preparedness but paint conflicting pictures of the nation's strength today.

Both presidential candidates drew applause at the American Legion convention with pledges that this country will marshal its might in the face of Communist threats reaching as close as Cuba.

Nixon told the Legionnaires Tuesday in a reference to Fidel Castro's Cuba that "we will take the strongest possible economic measures to counter the economic banditry being practiced by this regime against our country and its citizens."

Kennedy declared that the United States faced a critical situation created by "the steady erosion of relative American power and prestige in relation to the Communists."

He said, "We must build the military power necessary to keep our commitments and stop the next war before it starts."

Nixon said, "I happen to know, and Mr. Kennedy knows, that we are the strongest nation in the world and we are going to stay that way."

Applause, lining counts, gave Nixon a little bit of the edge in reaction from the almost 10,000 legionnaires and townspeople in the audience.

The candidates, who spent the full day campaigning in Florida, didn't cross paths at the big Miami Beach Convention Hall where they spoke half an hour apart.

Kennedy criticized the Eisenhower administration's Latin American policies and said, "Communism has been advancing steadily in every area of the world until the Iron Curtain now rests on the island of Cuba only 90 miles away."

Nixon said the time had come to "quarantine" the Castro regime.

Lodge Woos Dairymen in New York

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge told New York dairy leaders today his door always would be open to them, if the Republican team were elected this fall.

"My door will be open to you, I'm not an expert on milk, and I won't pretend to say something I'm not, but I'll give you all the time you need," the Republican candidate said.

"I do know Congress and the executive branch of government and I think I can do as much as the next man to get something done for you."

Lodge met briefly with several dairy leaders in a hotel room before flying to Rochester and another Republican rally from Rochester, he was to fly to Benton Harbor, Mich.

His remarks to the dairymen in Syracuse followed a statement by

Man Charged With Murder Sentenced

UNITED ROCK (AP)—James White, a Pine Bluff Negro who is facing a murder charge in state court, was sentenced to six months in a federal penitentiary here today.

U. S. District Judge J. Smith Henley imposed the sentence on a liquor charge. Henley added an eight-months probationary period after the sentence is served.

Henley was told that the murder case was postponed recently in Jefferson Circuit Court and there was no indication when it will be heard.

Allan Ostrander of Madison, president of the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative, who spoke for the group.

Ostrander said that if Vice President Richard M. Nixon were elected president, the New York dairymen would like an opportunity soon after the election to sit down with Republican leaders, present the New York views and explain concern for agriculture in the North.

Sub Atom Test Is Successful

WASHINGTON (AP)—The submarine Patrick Henry has successfully tested four combat-type Polaris missiles from a position about 500 miles off the coast of Florida, the Navy announced today.

The firings were during an Oct. 16-18 period.

All of the missiles went the full programmed range and landed in the planned impact area.

The announcement said the full range of a Polaris is 1,200 miles, but the shots and homing today were not necessary for all programmed for that range.

The Patrick Henry failed in earlier missile launching efforts several weeks ago. Three of four attempted launchings were unsuccessful.

The Liberty Bell was hidden in Allentown, Pa., during the British occupation of Philadelphia in the Revolutionary War.

Thinks Lodge Has Hurt GOP in South

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus said today that Henry Cabot Lodge's remarks about a Negro in the cabinet have hurt the Republican ticket in Arkansas.

Lodge, the Republican nominee for vice president, predicted Tuesday that a Negro will be named to the cabinet if his running mate, Vice President Nixon, is elected.

Faubus, who has given lukewarm support to the Kennedy-Johnson ticket, said today he believes the Democrats will carry Arkansas, but he said the outcome is not certain.

Asked why he felt Arkansas would support the Democrats, Faubus said, "Because of the federal bayonets sent here by the Republicans." He referred to use by President Eisenhower of federal troops to enforce integration in Little Rock in 1957-58.

Faubus reiterated that he feels states rights is the biggest issue of the campaign, but he did not indicate he feels a state of States Rights Party electors has much chance of carrying Arkansas.

The states rights question has been largely ignored by the major candidates.

Says Neither Knows What He Would Do

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sen. John McClellan said Tuesday he didn't believe either major presidential candidate "knows what he would actually do" if the islands of Quemoy and Matsu were threatened.

"The islands are near the Chinese Communist mainland but are held by the Chinese Nationalists. Their strategic value and what the United States should do if the Communists should attack them have become an issue in the campaign between Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican candidate, and Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee."

McClellan told a meeting of the Young Democrats Club at Little Rock University.

"I think it is unfortunate that the Quemoy-Matsu problem has entered the campaign."

"If Americans get the impression that Kennedy will try to placate the Communists, it will hurt him. And if they think that Nixon will risk a war over these islands, then he will suffer."

"I don't believe either man knows what he would actually do if he were president. It is better not to say what we would do until we are sure."

Wet Delays State Crop Harvest

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Crop Reporting Service said today that excessive moisture is delaying harvest of cotton, rice and soybeans in most Delta counties.

The area needs an extended period of fair weather to facilitate harvest operations, the service said in its weekly summary.

Wet, cloudy weather continued to harass cotton growers. The quality of lint has been impaired, bolls are opening slowly and some are rotting, particularly in fields with rank growth.

Picking was just getting back to full swing when rains last Friday again stopped harvest.

The harvest ranges from about one-third to one-half complete in most major producing counties.

The rice harvest also was limited by wet weather although a sizeable acreage was combined before the Friday rains.

Late rice is all that remains to be combined in most counties and a few days of favorable weather would enable many growers to complete harvest, the crop summary said.

Wants Nixon Out as a Witness

LITTLETON, N.H. (AP)—The government today asked a federal court judge to kill a subpoena calling for Vice President Richard M. Nixon to testify as a defense witness in a tax evasion case.

Meanwhile, Sen. Norris Cotton, R-NH, also named in one of two surprise subpoenas, arrived at the courthouse shortly after the government rested its case against Mark Granite.

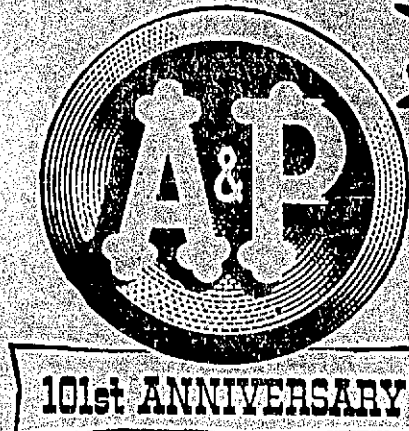

U.S. Atty. Maurice P. Bois presented a motion to quash the subpoenas issued for the Republican presidential candidate.

The court scheduled an afternoon hearing on the motion and Bois declined to discuss it in advance with newsmen.

Granite, 78, director of the Granite Foundation in Lancaster, is on trial in U.S. District Court.

The defense opened its case without any indication of whether Nixon or Cotton will actually testify.

John Adams is the longevity champ among U. S. presidents. He lived to the ripe old age of 90.

Runaway Boys Found Safe on Boat

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Coast Guardmen boarded the ketch Alpha 1 today and found its three runaway boys—who pointed a rifle at a rescue plane Thursday—safe and submissive.

The cutter Pontchartrain, which reached the sailing boat 155 miles southwest of here shortly after midnight, radioed that the Alpha 1's steering gear and engine needed repairs.

As soon as this is done, the boat will be sailed back to Newport Beach, Calif., under escort, the notice said.

Const. Guard said Larry Reitz, 14, Mike Massel, 14, and Nick Brisseau, 15, all of Newport Beach, set sail Saturday from that resort northwest of San Diego.

Dr. M. J. Reitz said his son left a note saying he was going out to find his "secret fortune."

Reitz is a brother-in-law of the owner of the ketch, Ralph Walls of Costa Mesa.

A Navy amphibious search plane spotted the ketch Tuesday.

The ketch was under full sail at approximately 6 knots on a course southwest of here, 70 miles distant, off the coast of Baja California, Mexico.

A Coast Guard plane dropped a message to the Alpha 1 directing it to stop. A Coast Guard cutter, under escort, the notice said.

Temperance Meet at Stuttgart

PORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Stuttgart will be the site of the 10th convention of the Arkansas Women's Christian Temperance Union.

It was selected Tuesday at the close of a two-day convention here.

Admits Guilt in Income Tax Case

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Clyde R. Smith, 65-year-old Lepanto attorney, pleaded guilty here today to violation of the federal income tax law.

U. S. District Judge Gordon E. Young placed him on unsupervised probation for two years.

Smith was indicted by a federal grand jury at Little Rock in September in connection with a scheme involving tax refunds.

The government said Smith would prepare income tax reports for clients and in instances where refunds were indicated would pay two-thirds of the refund immediately, and then collect the full amount himself when the Internal Revenue Service sent the money. When the IRS advised him the practice was illegal, the government said, Smith started a complicated plan involving changes of address for the clients, collection of their checks and forging of their names to the checks.

Bids Taken on 11 Road Projects

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Commission will open bids Nov. 9 on 11 road and bridge projects estimated to cost $6.76 million dollars.

New Record for Racing Revenue

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A final report from the Southland Racing Corp.'s greyhound track at West Memphis after the end of a second 50-day meeting tonight may produce a new record for state revenue.

State Revenue Department officials said Monday that through last Friday the state's tax share from the track had been $343,805, compared with $304,918 during the first 50-day meeting.

Attendance through Friday was 193,290 with bets of $6,152,083, compared with attendance of 220,889 and bets of $6,454,800 during the first meeting.

Wants Aid Against Local Gambling

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he would favor a change in federal law to require that the Internal Revenue Service notify local officers of gambling devices.

The devices are licensed and are listed in files which are open to inspection, but no distinction is made between, for example, slot machines which are illegal in Arkansas and pinball machines which are legal and not considered gambling devices under state law.

Faubus made his comment in reply to a news conference question.
